About Open School BC

Open School BC is BC's foremost developer of distance education and online curriculum materials for kindergarten to Grade 12.

Our history dates back to 1919, when the BC Ministry of Education established the first correspondence schools in the province. Today, Open School BC operates as a managed partnership between the SD40 Business Company and the Queen's Printer.

We continue to provide learners with quality courses, developed by teachers and educators, that meet the BC curriculum standards and requirements. Building upon the best of innovative practices in education, Open School BC is dedicated to improving accessibility to learners—anytime, anywhere.

We invite you to take a look at our 2003–04 Course Catalogue. If you require more information about us, or any of our products and services, please:

Online Courses and Open School BC

Bringing online courses into BC classrooms is a great challenge. Increasing costs of course delivery systems and technical services makes it difficult for many districts to offer online options to their students and teachers.

Open School BC, the BC Ministry of Education, Distributed Electronic Learning Consortium, and the Consortium of Online Learning (COOL) have negotiated a two year, shared WebCT license available to school districts in British Columbia and Alberta starting July 2003. This license allows school districts providing online programs to access WebCT on a central server, which is hosted and technically supported by the Online Consortium Hosting Service (OCHS), a service of Open School BC.

Through the OCHS, school districts have the option to have their own courses hosted, to license the use of Open School BC courses for their learners, or, if a member COOL, to access the courses provided by this consortium.

Open School BC Online course offerings include:

Accounting 11 & 12	Career & Personal Planning 11/12	Chemistry 11
Drama: Film & Television 11	Drama: History of Film 12	Earth Science 11
English 11 & 12	Entrepreneurship 12	History 12
Information Technology 11 & 12	Journalism 12	Law 12
Social Studies 8 & 11	Visual Arts: Media Arts 11	Spanish 11

Communications 11

Course Description

Communications 11, with Communications 12 to follow, provides an alternative course in English that meets the needs of students who may find it difficult to succeed in English 11 and English 12. The course provides practical communication skills for students who probably will not attend academic post-secondary institutions. Communications 11 combines language and literature in one course.

Why did Lester B. Pearson claim that even a thousand years from now, Canadians would remember the 15th of February, 1965?

"...at noon today...our new Flag will fly for the first time in the skies above Canada and in places overseas where Canadians serve. If our nation, by God's grace, endures a thousand years, this day, the 15th day of February, 1965, will always be remembered as a milestone in Canada's national progress."

“Creative” Composition

Two students decided to go to a party the night before an exam. On the day of the exam they told their teacher that their car had had a flat tire and they needed more time to study. The teacher told the students they could have another day.

After arriving at school the next morning, each student was told to go to a separate classroom to write the exam. The students read the first question.

“For 5 points, write a short descriptive sentence.”

At this point the students thought the exam was going to be a piece of cake and answered the question with ease. The students continued to the second question.

“For 95 points, tell me which tire it was.”

English 8

Course Description

This course consists of four modules: three compulsory modules (1, 2, and 5) and a module selected from a choice of two modules (3 or 4). Each module has five sections and activities to complete. The modules are thematic and focus on both fiction (short stories, novels, plays, poetry) and non-fiction (essays, articles, editorials, journals). Improving writing skills is one of the main goals of this course. Grammar workshops are included throughout the modules.

Journalism/Media 12 (online or print)

Course Description

This course teaches the fundamentals of writing for print, radio, and television with an emphasis on clear, concise writing. Some elements of production are included and online journalism is introduced for students who have access to the Internet. Unlike literature courses, this course focuses on student writing, with published criticism for examples. Many activities involve writing for publishers outside the course: student newspapers, yearbooks, as well as community newspapers, TV, and radio stations.

Writing 12

Course Description

The development of the course takes into account individual needs and student interests. There are no tests. Standing will be granted on the basis of the quality of work during the course.

A senior creative writing course requires the student to have strong English skills. Therefore, it is recommended that students should have at least a C+ grade in an English course at the Grade 11 level.

Students should also be aware it will take approximately 100-120 hours to complete Writing 12, as it is a full-year course.

Aphorismes

Il est incontestable que, de tous les arts, l'art culinaire est celui qui nourrit le mieux son homme. (P. Dac, 1893-1975)

L'art est un appel auquel il y en a trop qui répondent sans avoir été appelés. (L. Langanesi, 1905-1957)

N'ouvre la bouche que lorsque tu es sur que ce que tu vas dire est plus beau que le silence. (Proverbe Arabe)

French 8

Course Description

It is strongly recommended that students have some previous courses in French. Students with no previous exposure to French should take Introductory French 8 prior to enrolling in French 8.

This course is based on the British Columbia prescribed curriculum for core French 8 and embraces the communicative-experiential approach. It emphasizes the practical use of language in all its forms and de-emphasizes the analytical study of grammatical theory.

The course requires students to use French to perform realistic communicative tasks, share ideas, acquire information and get things done. It also includes experiences with works by Francophone artists and actors.

French 9

Course Description

French 9 is based on the British Columbia curriculum for core French 9 and emphasizes the communicative-experiential language learning approach: “the focus of instruction is the purposeful use of the language to perform real-life tasks, share ideas, acquire information, and get things done. Grammar instruction plays a supportive role only—to provide useful strategies to facilitate communication and comprehension.”
